THE QUESTION OF REMOVAL DISCUSSED.

The Government About Equally Di vided in the Matter Trousseau Resigns.

The Executive and Advisory Councils had a warm and spirited meeting

Board of Health. This at once precipitated matters and a heated debate ensued.

Cecil Brown, who has not signed the Annexation roll and is regarded as having no great amount of sympathy who opposed any removals except for hulas.

Henry Waterhouse, who has always been solid for Annexation and all that ROBBERY AT THE HOTEL Johnny Hayward, by W. H. John Emmeluth followed him with a stirring plea for turning out men who are opposed to the Government which employs them A and putting in Annexationists who, though competent, are out of work, He urged that public safety as well as common justice required such a course.

Acting President Hatch was favorable to removals as fast as the interests of the public service would permit.

Attorney General Smith spoke highly of Dr. Trousseau as a medical man, but left the impression in the minds of Alexander Young did not want the to be some difference of opinion on the matter, however, as some say that event will occur to-morrow, while John E. Bush tells the readers of the Ka Leo that it will not come off till after the next steamer arrives.

Among the many rumors affoat is one that her ex-majesty intends to hoist her ex-royal standard at some time and place during the day not yet fixed upon. Mrs. Dominis and her followers could not hit upon any better plan of committing suicide than this, and the hoisting of the flag will be anxiously awaited. It would be an interesting event, although it might lead to something exciting.

Another rumor is effect that the ex Queen tired of the seclusion of Washington place and intends to show her exroyal countenance to her former subjects to-morrow, and on that account will attend the ex royal circus and take part in the grand parade. If the rumor is true, and Honolulu rumors have attained a reputation of their own which extends over several seas and a few continents, Mrs. Dominis will-on this occasion only-trot out the ex royal coach of state and the gayly caparisoned ex-royal horses to the number of four.
